On the 1st March 2015 TAFE Western held a public meeting to discuss plans for the future of the TAFE Campus at Bourke. The meeting detailed the options being considered by TAFE Western regarding the ongoing delivery of services in Bourke.

The meeting heard that the damage to the TAFE building as a result of the structural issues would necessitate the probable demolition of that part of the complex. The option being considered at the moment was the lease of the downstairs section of the building owned by the Outback Division of General Practice, formerly the Post Office Hotel and more recently the Office of Far West Medicare Local.

The TAFE representatives outlined the changing methods of delivery of some courses and the utilisation of both mobile teaching facilities and technology such as Video Conferencing and how these would provide an effective method of service delivery in the future.

The loss of a physical presence the TAFE buildings was a concern raised and the potential sale of the redundant buildings also of concern.

The TAFE staff answered numerous queries from the floor; however, it was obvious that the potential loss of the buildings was not well received by the community.

Council’s nomination was based on its involvement in the Bourke Community Sharps Interagency Group and its coordination of a regional education strategy across Western New South Wales which resulted in 285 staff from 19 Councils undertaking an accredited course in the Safe Collection and Disposal of Community Sharps. A reminder that nominations for the Bourke Shire Council Australia Day Awards for 2016 are open. Whilst nominations are open till 6th January 2016, we find that many organisations will be having their last meetings for the year over the next week or so and the opportunity may be taken to endorse an application. As we move into the festive season and the traditional summer holidays some issues such as nominations for these awards can be overlooked and deserved nominees may not get nominated.
