

FLOODWATERS ARE EXTREMELY DANGEROUS!

They can be contaminated with sewage and chemicals, pesticides and herbicides.

As we have been experiencing a mice inundation, think of all the pesticides, baits and deceased mice floating in the water.

We are urging all residents in areas affected by floodwaters to maintain good hygiene practices. Ensure you wash your hands thoroughly afterwards as well.

Do not enter or play in floodwater. It's unsafe.

Do not allow children to swim in flooded rivers, it is not safe. Floodwater has strong currents and contain things that you can't see that can hurt you:

- Sharp objects
- Physical objects such as trees and debris
- Dangerous animals such as snakes
